Information for Authors

Conflict: An International Journal aims to bridge the gap between the limited coverage offered by the topical press and the specialized literature of the political and foreign policy research institutions. In general, articles consider the increasing attacks upon the fundamental values and institutions of Western democratic society.

Manuscripts should be submitted to the Editor-in-Chief, George K. Tanham, The Rand Corporation, 2100 M Street N.W., Washington, D.C. 20037. Books for review should be sent to the Editor-in-Chief.

Manuscripts will be accepted with the understanding that their content is unpublished and not being submitted for publication elsewhere. If any part of the paper has been published previously, or is to be published elsewhere, the author must include this information at the time of submittal.

Form. Submit a typed original and two copies of the paper, in English, on one side of good quality opaque paper. (An additional copy should be kept by the author.) Each copy must be complete. Type the text, including footnotes and references, double-spaced. Allow margins of at least an inch on all sides of the typed pages. Number manuscript pages consecutively throughout the paper. At the top of each manuscript page type a short version of the article's title (40 characters including spaces).

Abstracts. Each paper should be summarized in an abstract of not more than 150 words. An abstract prefaces each paper and should enable the reader to know whether the paper is pertinent to his needs. Do not include references or symbols.

Title. The title of the article should be kept as brief as possible (6 to 12 words).

Affiliation. On the title pages include full names of authors, academic and/or other professional affiliations, and the complete address of the author to whom proofs and correspondence should be sent.

References to the Literature. Follow the Chicago Style Manual. "A Uniform System of Citation" should be followed in the case of legal articles.

Figures. All figures must be submitted in a form suitable for good reproduction, have a brief descriptive title, and be drawn on separate sheets. Number figures according to the sequence of their appearance in the text, referring to them as Fig. 1, etc. On the back (or in a margin) of each figure, give the figure number, name of author, and title of this journal.

Tables. All tables must be discussed or mentioned in the text and numbered (with arabic numerals) in order of mention. Each table should have a brief descriptive title. Do not include explanatory material in the title; use footnotes, keyed to the table with superior lower-case letters. Place all footnotes to a table at the end of the table. Define all data in the column heads. Every table should be fully understandable even without reference to the text. Type all tables on separate sheets; do not include them within the text.

Spelling and Hyphenation. The authority is Webster's Unabridged Dictionary.

Permissions. If any figure, table, or more than a few lines of text from previously published material are included in a manuscript, the author must obtain written permission for republication from copyright holder.

Copyright. Under the new copyright law, the transfer of copyright from author to publisher must now be explicitly stated to enable the publisher to assure maximum dissemination of the author's work. Copies of the form for use with this journal can be obtained from the Editor.

Proofs. All proofs must be corrected and returned to the publisher within 48 hours of receipt. Only correction of typographical errors is permitted. The author will be charged for additional alterations to text at the proof stage.

Reprints. A total of 25 reprints of each paper will be supplied free of charge. Additional copies may be ordered at charges shown in the reprint price scale that will be sent to the author with the proofs. Reprints are not available after publication of the issue.

The Publisher will do everything possible to ensure prompt publication. It will therefore be appreciated if the manuscripts and illustrations conform to the style of the Journal.
